Introduction

We come to the realization that we have lived in the greatest of all times in our lives. We have endured the Roaring Twenties, the Great Depression, prosperity, three wars, inflation, and the greatest strides in scientific advancement in the history of our Nation. And so, for the "World of Tomorrow", we have lived it. Hopefully, we will all have peace and hope for the future and for generations to come -- hope for the "World of Tomorrow".

Sleep well, good friends, and save a place for us.
For, inevitably, we will all be together someday, somewhere, because we have a common bond. A grand and glorious reunion will be held wherever it may be.

We reunite again for fun
We come from far and near
It's good to see old friends again
For laughter and good cheer.
Well, at least, most of us.

It's fun to reminisce again
With many, many chums
Maybe some exaggerate
But none of us are bums.
Well, at least, most of us.

Some of us are professionals
Some of us are not
But, whatever our lot in life
We deserve just what we got.
Well, at least, most of us.

Some of us got married
And some of us did not
Some of us had children
And we're happy with our lot.
Well, at least, most of us.

And, so until we meet again
Farewell - Goodbye - Adieu
Good Luck, Best Wishes, and Good Health
To everyone of you.
This we hope for all of us.
